

HELPING HANDS OF NGO'S

How prisoners are treated in jails is an indicator of the character of civilization of state. If the society wishes to have fewer criminals then it is incumbent upon it to help government agencies in reformation and rehabilitation programmes, so that an offender may return to the social milieu as a law abiding citizen. Delhi Jails have taken pride in successfully experimenting with the involvement of NGOs in their correctional programmes and the results are encouraging making them trendsetters for others. It is heartening to note that NGOs are dedicating their time, resources and energy in conducting various reformatory programmes in the field of counseling, health, running of a creche rehabilitation, yoga, meditation, education, vocational training, drug de-addiction, legal aid and Campus Placement etc. The name of NGO's are as under:-
